Here is the only comment you and your panel will need to consider

How could anyone possibly not understand that an interstate (very much not intrastate) network is NECESSARY to optimize the inevitable online poker industry for not only the players (whom are clearly the most important factor to the industry, like it or not) but also for the businesses running the online poker rooms, the governments (state and/or federal) sitting back and using their clearly poor level of oversight to justify the collection of tax revenue and even down to the employees of each body involved, both public and private.

You're Welcome
