Good morning. Aira Duyanen for the Culinary Union. The U.S. agency in charge of federal labor law enforcement obtained texts, emails, internal communications by Station Casinos executives and directors during discovery in one the largest labor law enforcement actions in U.S. history. One example is texts messages from the Director of Human Resources at Green Valley Ranch on May 5, 2020 during the COVID pandemic. On that day, the GVR HR Director directed a colleague to an internal company page about which employees had been laid off.

She texted: "Website updates with union [Team members] that we're laid off so check it out." The colleague texted back "K" and then after 15 minutes wrote back, "Damn cold blooded." Within a minute the GVR HR Director wrote back "I love it."

Las Vegas and the gaming industry were trying to survive a pandemic and the website containing information about mass firing of union Station Casinos employees was described as "Damn cold blooded" and the director of human resources at a property of gaming license holder said "I love it."

The day she said "I love it," the Southern Nevada Health District reported 238 deaths and 1,270 hospitalizations with 516 in ICUs in Clark County due to COVID-19 since March 20.

We urge you to ask Station Casinos why one of its human resource directors would "love" the apparent "damn cold blooded" treatment of gaming industry employees.

We must restate that in the three years prior to the pandemic, over 5,300 gaming industry workers unionized at eight Station Casinos properties winning elections by a combined average of 65%. Then came the pandemic, the May 2020 mass firings at Stations, and the May 5 "I love it" text. Thanks.

Mi nombre es Mercedes Cabrera.

He trabajado en Green Valley Ranch
hace 18 años como kitchen worker.

Estoy luchando para que mis
beneficios estén asegurados por un contrato y para que mis compañeros
y yo tengamos seguridad laboral.

Tenemos más de 11 años luchando.
Hace 7 años atrás, ganamos nuestra
elección sindical y Station Casinos dijo que respetaría la decisión de los trabajadores. Todavía no hemos visto ese respeto.

Gracias.

Thank you.
