Good morning. Jesus Landeros for the Culinary Union. My comments are about Station Casinos Chief Financial Officer Stephen Cootey. Mr. Cootey's job duties include "devot[ing] full time and attention to the business and affairs of the Company," according to his employer's 2017 filing with the SEC. A CFO of a publicly traded, Nevada gaming company should be credible when testifying under oath about significant matters. We know that in September 2022 the Commission discussed in a licensing hearing Mr. Cootey's ability to recall a significant event involving law enforcement.

In November 2019, Mr. Cootey was in the meeting with Station Casinos owners and others executives where senior management made a written presentation seeking approval for millions of dollars in spending to finance new health and retirement benefits. The presentation emphasized key points through underlined and red-bolded text to stress how funding the benefits would take away union power and disincentivize employees from supporting it. In December 2019, Mr. Cootey was a participant in a group text chat with Station Casinos owners where its Chief Legal Officer crowed that employees had removed union buttons after meetings announcing the benefits. So Mr. Cootey was in a meeting with underlined, bolded red content and in a group chat with updates about the roll out of plans partly discussed in that meeting.

Yet, according to the judge that presided over the unfair labor practice trial, Mr. Cootey and other executives testifying under oath "refused to admit that that there was any discussion at the meeting regarding the underlined and bolded red points in the health insurance and retirement proposals about incentivizing employees not to vote for a union and taking away union power."

The judge found Mr. Cootey's account not to be credible. Station Casinos is appealing that finding, but you should ask yourselves why there should even be a doubt about Mr. Cootey's ability to provide transparent testimony in a government proceeding. As the Chief Financial Officer, Mr. Cootey is supposed to devote his full time and attention to the business and affairs of the Company. We believe a chief financial should be able to provide credible testimony under oath. Thanks.

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express why having a union contract is of critical importance to me and my fellow workers.

A union contract provides clear and enforceable rights that protect me in the workplace. It ensures fair wages, safe working conditions, job security, and a formal process for resolving disputes. Without a contract, I would be vulnerable to arbitrary decisions by management and would lack the power to effectively advocate for myself and my coworkers.

A contract gives me peace of mind knowing that there are standards in place regarding work hours, overtime, benefits, and disciplinary procedures. It establishes a balance of power and creates a transparent, respectful, and professional work environment.

For me, having a union contract isn't just about better wages—it's about dignity, fairness, and the ability to have a voice in decisions that affect my daily life and future.

Thank you for your attention and understanding.

Sincerely,

Lazaro Gomez Martinez
