ALL NGC MEETINGS COMMENCE AT 10:00 A.M.

Good morning. Diamante Asberry, here on behalf of the Culinary Union.

I'm here today to talk to you about Palace Station management's relationship with workers.

It is a violation of the National Labor Relations Act for a company to encourage, promote, or provide assistance to employees seeking to decertify their union. Very simply, workers vote in a union and then workers can vote out the union, but management cannot encourage, promote or assist.

Questionable text messages referring to management involvement with the decertification of the union at Palace Station were exchanged between Station Casinos management in 2020 during the time period when the company had recognized Palace Station workers as unionized.

On January 11, 2020, Dave Horn, the GM of Palace Station, texted a colleague: "Phil says to get me the names of the people who can help with decertification but don't get directly involved."

And it was not just at Palace Station. On June 25, 2020, the Sunset Station GM asked the Station Casinos head of HR "How do I get information on attending one of the decertification meetings?"

According to Palace Station sanitation workers, management's relationship with workers has been openly hostile.

One sanitation worker wrote an incident report about her manager yelling in her face on November 28, 2022. She then filed another report to the company on January 16, 2023 about this same manager yelling and confronting her aggressively for taking time off for FMLA. In a June 28, 2023 incident report she wrote, "I am very frustrated in the fact that I have made multiple reports and no action is being taken against [manager]." She also wrote, "He's told me that no matter how many times I report him, that nothing will happen."

Another sanitation worker wrote in a letter to Palace Station executives, "The sanitation supervisors cause a hostile environment at work by having favorites and treating my other coworkers unequally and unfairly." She also said, "I know if you know what was going on inside our department you would not support the actions being taken against Station employees who have been loyal to the company."

We believe that when a company violates labor law and when workers from a sanitation department feel threatened, it harms the reputation of the Nevada Gaming Industry as a whole. We ask you to help hold Station Casinos accountable for what has happened at Palace Station.

Thank you.

My name is Micheline Pierre Wilson. I am a worker at Palace Station. I have been with the company for 16 years as a porter.

I am a committee leader to represent my coworkers at Palace Station.

We are looking for job security. We feel very unsafe. We want a contract.

Thank you for allowing me to speak regarding myself and my coworkers at Palace Station.
